

LES CONNECTEURS BLUEMIND POUR CLIENTS LOURDS

The Thunderbird connector

The BlueMind connector for Thunderbird is provided through the `bm-connector-thunderbird` package which is installed by default with BlueMind. Once the package is installed, users can find the connector in the Download section of their user account.

Should the package not be installed on the server, it can simply be reinstalled:

Debian/Ubuntu

```
sudo aptitude install bm-connector-thunderbird

Debian/Ubuntu

yum install bm-connector-thunderbird

The Outlook connector

The Outlook connector is not installed with BlueMind by default. To find out more about installing it, please go to the page: Provisioning Users to the Outlook Connector
